NEW MEMBER GIVES COMMONS HARD JOLT

John Jones, "Sockless Jerry" of British House, Spurns
Formality.

Every parliament produces a new character. The American congress had "Sockless" Jerry Simpson from Kansas and the British house of commons had Kier Hardie, who appeared on the floor in a workman's cap and with a workman's freedom of speech in the era when the silk hat and frock coat were still almost a uniform for that assembly and when the heavy Gladstonian manner was its model for debate.

John Jones, the new Labor member from Silvertown, is the Jerry Simpson and the Kier Hardie of the house of commons.

The proof of this is that his speeches are punctuated with shocked cries of "Order!" from the old-timers, and the reason for the cries is that he talks to the house of commons just as he used to talk when he was addressing out-of-door audiences from a soapbox at Tower hill, which is the forum for informal workmen's debates.

"Don't you try to assume so much, guv'nor!" was his first remark to the speaker. Speaker Lowthar, sitting under a canopy, arrayed in his wig and gown, is a personage certainly no less portentous than the chief justice of the United States of America, and the house had a shock equal to what the Supreme court would have suffered under similar lese majeste.

John Jones got even with the house. "I want you gentlemen to know—" he remarked, while discussing conscription. ("Honorable members" is the hallowed term for referring to members of the house.) There were loud calls for "Order!" Mr. Jones replied:

"I beg your pardon if I have made a mistake by calling you gentlemen." The house saw the joke and cheered him.

FLYER WAS AN EXPERT IN "GROUND STRAFING"

C. HARRIS & EWING

Capt. G. DeForest Lerner, an American ace who downed 13 foe planes in the war, has interested friends in Washington with an account of a final battle with the enemy the day before the armistice was signed. A party of 80 bombing planes protected by 50 Spad scouts went over the lines, but were intercepted by more than 50 German battle planes. Captain Lerner went after a group of seven and got two. Much of his work at the front was "ground strafing," that is, flying low over points where enemy troops were concentrated and sending machine gun bullets into them.

DELAYED THE FUNERAL

Hearse Driver Forget to Put a Coffin in It Before He Started.

George I. King, known by every man, woman and child in Brown county, Indiana, and by all visitors who go to Nashville by way of Helmsburg, has been the stage coach driver between Nashville and Helmsburg and the hearse driver for Nashville's only undertaking establishment for ten years.

Recently there was to be a burial at the Story cemetery, 12 miles south of Nashville, and King was called on to drive the hearse. He hitched two horses to the hearse and started from Nashville at 5 a. m. After he had driven within two miles of the cemetery, he got out to walk up a steep hill and noticed that he had forgotten to put the coffin in the hearse.

He turned the horses' heads toward Nashville and made the trip back in a short time. He loaded the coffin and changed horses and resumed the trip. The burial was delayed four hours.

YEAR RICH IN CENTENARIES

Natal Day Celebrations of Many Famous People Will Take Place During 1919.

This year of grace 1919 is rich in centenaries. To begin with, it is a hundred years since Queen Victoria appeared on Mother Earth—a centenary concerning which the monthlies will presently be waxing eloquent, London Tit-Bits states.

Another noted centenary of the present year is that of the famous old sea-dog, Admiral Rodney, the man in whom for years the French found so persistent an assailant, so doughty an adversary. 'Twas way back in 1819 that this old gentleman first delighted his friends with his presence. The centenary of W. E. Foster, the statesman, will also be celebrated this year. Few greater authorities on education than this gifted son-in-law of the great Doctor Arnold of Rugby ever breathed.

Among other worthies whose names must also be mentioned in this connection is that of John Campbell Sharp, the Wordsworthian poet and philosopher; Arthur Hugh Clough, the poet, and Charles Kingsley, the gifted author of that immortal thriller, "Westward Ho!"

Scotsmen will presently be doing honor to the memory of another noted individual whose centenary also falls this year—a man worthy of a happier fate—Donald Cargill, the great covenant, who, it will be remembered, for daring to excommunicate the king, was executed at the Old Market Cross, Edinburgh. Neither must we forget George Elliot, the authoress of that unparalleled romance, "Adam Bede."

WORKERS NOT ALWAYS BUSY

Bustling Individual Sometimes Is Merely Carrying Out Ideas Evolved by Apparent "Loafer."

Secretary of War Baker was defending certain army officers who had been berated as chair warmers. "Some may be," he admitted, "but in most cases I am sure you will find that the very person whose position or work seems almost a sinecure, is doing big things, while often the person who is thoughtlessly given credit is not the real worker at all. Like the secretary's stenographer.

"Who is that busy young woman telling that visiting committee where to get off?" asked the stranger. "Oh, 's the answer, 'she's the secretary's stenographer."

"What secretary?" "The secretary of the Bluffville chamber of commerce. That's him, reading the movie magazine in the back room. He's the 'live wire' you read so much about in the daily papers."

Aid to Remembrance.

Dorothy has a habit of biting her finger nails. Her father promised her a ruby ring on her birthday if she would stop the habit. At the end of the first day she inquired: "Daddy, if I had the ring on my finger don't you think me could 'member more better?"

THE STANLEY-BLACK VOTE

Governor Black is going over the State claiming that he saved the Democratic ticket in 1915.

Did he?

See below comparison of figures of the official vote.
 Stanley received 219,991 votes; Black received 215,855 votes; Stanley's majority over Black was 4,136. Stanley's majority over Morrow was 471. If Black had been the nominee for Governor instead of Stanley, Morrow would have defeated him by 3,655 votes.

Governor Black claims that his majority was 8,720 votes, which is true; but he fails to explain that Morrow ran more than 8,000 votes ahead of any other candidate on the Republican ticket, and that his majority was greater than Stanley's because of this fact, and not because of the number of votes which Black received.

Governor Black also claims that he received a strong vote in the mountain counties. Find below the official vote of 35 mountain counties which shows that Governor Stanley carried 28 mountain counties over Governor Black. Governor Black shows a lead over Stanley in 6 mountain counties only, and one of them is his home county.

 A dumpling is a good old English dish and comes from the word dumpey, that meant to throw down suddenly and the diminutive ending ling. The idea was a little cake that was made by throwing raw rough dough into boiling water.
